

Duragrain Timber-Look Venetians

Make your windows look great with easy to use Timber look Duragrain venetians

What is Duragrain?

Duragrain is a Polyresin (quality plastic) venetian blind. Made to look like a timber blind, but designed to be more durable- hence the name Duragrain. They are water proof, so perfect for wet areas, steam proof, so can be used in steamy bathrooms and they are very strong against the Sun's UV rays and can withstand upto 73 degrees Celsius.

Duragrain can be custom made in either 63mm or 50mm blade sizes. The 50mm version has a larger choice of colours and the option of a ridged version though. 63mm Duragrain comes in either white or Ivory polished finish. Where as Duragrain 50mm has the option of Cherry, Golden Oak, White, Parchment and Ivory. See the picture on page two for colour examples or email us for a full size PDF of colours.

Duragrain comes with an 85mm Pelmet too which can have returns on either end if required. Please see the picture to the left bottom of this page for an example.

The controls are of course completely child safe and made of polyester to match the colour of your blind. Eg Cherry blind, brown strings and controls.

“Duragrain is the best Wood Look Venetian there is, I've been selling them since 2006 and my customers just keep wanting to buy them again once they move house”

Quoted by Paul Assinder Sales Director/ Designer

2700mm is the longest we will manufacture Duragrains too as they are fairly heavy to lift if too big. We only use the best quality Australian parts for our blinds & the head box underneath the pelmet is top of the range commercial grade. Duragrain is so easy to clean too.

How do I clean my Duragrains?

Cleaning is pretty easy on these great blinds, required at least twice a year, use a sponge and dry cloth for the best results. Just wipe of any dust and dry with a clean cloth for your blinds to look brand new again. Or you can of course vacuum them or simply dust them as required.
